Bucerius Summer School on Global Governance Information Sheet for Applicants

Dear Applicant,

You have been nominated to apply for the 17th Bucerius Summer School on Global Governance that will take place from August 13 to 25, 2017 in Hamburg, Berlin, and Paderborn, Germany. The Bucerius Summer School on Global Governance has been organized annually since 2001 by the ZEIT-Stiftung Ebelin und Gerd Bucerius.

The Bucerius Summer School's Selection Committee will invite approximately 55 participants from all over the world – young people who are working in very diverse fields including politics, government, business, civil society, academia, and the media.

The aim of the Bucerius Summer School is to build an international network of young leaders and to foster a dialogue on contemporary governance questions. The participants will be between 28 and 35 years of age. They will have already acquired professional experience and exhibit promise in their respective fields.

The program provides a unique opportunity to interact with high-ranking figures from the political, business and academic communities from around the world.

Please carefully review the checklist for your application to the Bucerius Summer School on Global Governance. For further information, you can also take a look at the official website: www.bucerius-summer-school.com.

We very much look forward to receiving your application.
